

Ana Pellicer-Sanchez

I have been a member of EuroSLA since the beginning of my academic career, actively participating in the annual conferences and workshops. My research expertise, with a focus on second language vocabulary learning and processing, and interdisciplinary in nature, aligns very well with the interests of the association. I believe this research expertise would allow me to contribute to fulfilling the main aim of the association, i.e., to further research into second language acquisition, use and processing. I have a genuine interest in promoting interdisciplinary collaboration and strengthen the links and collaborations among research groups in Europe, which is reflected in my recent research. In the last eight years, I have hold various committee positions (i.e., convenor, treasurer) in several associations and organisations (i.e., BAAL Vocabulary Studies SIG, London Second Language Research Forum). I believe this experience will be helpful in fulfilling the responsibilities of the role of ordinary member, including the organisation of the various activities of the association. It would be a real pleasure to have the opportunity to have a closer and more direct impact on the activities of the association and contribute to shaping its future direction.
