I received my PhD in 2000 from the University of Dusseldorf and have since held positions at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam, the University of Groningen and now at the University of Essex. I have a strong interest in bilingualism, especially language attrition and psycho-/neurolinguistics. I've been a member of the EuroSLA committee since 2008, and have always enjoyed contributing to shaping the strategy and policy of the organisation. Since 2013, I have been in charge of the website and the social media, a task which I am now handing over to Danijela Trenkic. I hope to be able to continue on the committee and help out in other ways.
